

The Band, Spare Change based in LaGrange NC, got their start in 2002 as a 4 piece band made up of a group of friends. Traveling throughout the southeast, this band grew into what is today one of the most sought after bands in their market. Spare Change has grown to be a favorite for Festival goers, Corporate Parties, Wedding Receptions, Nightclubs and more!

They energize every function with their diverse selection of music. From Rock, Country, Beach, Funk, Rap and Classic Rock, Spare Change is sure to play a favorite of all persons attending. They will definitely make your event one to remember with unique instruments from the mandolin to the violin, they seem to bring something refreshing and exciting to their fans.

Spare Change is a regional band that looks and sounds like a national act. From the ultra-high level of instrumental play to the four and five part vocal harmonies, from the thunderous sound production to the eye-catching light show, this band is unmatched in excitement, energy, and crowd interaction.

Frontman Jordan Rouse brings a youthful exuberance to center stage while a veteran rhythm section provides a strong backbeat and groove, driving a crowd to exhaustion by night's end.

Hugh Blanton, Jeff Morris, and Sam Manriquez (bass, drums, and guitar, respectively) are well known throughout the Carolinas for their musical abilities. They've played together in various ensembles for many years, bringing the "tightness" that only intense familiarity can provide.

Veronica Sabiston is an extremely accomplished singer with a "freight train" powerful voice. She shares time with Jordan on lead vocals, allowing Spare Change to take on nearly any song and adding immensely to their already lengthy repertoire.

Recent addition Matt Bell (electric violin) has played all over the world and brings another measure of high energy and excitement to the stage.

Spare Change travels with a professional sound engineer and a lighting technician, ensuring that the total production experience is always top-notch.

So what can you expect from a Spare Change concert? You'll hear all of your favorite songs, whether your preference be rock, country, funk, or soul. You won't hear too many bands play Charlie Daniels, Rehab, and the Jackson 5 back to back to back, but you will with this group.
